One object of the meetings of the four committees was to ascertain the advisability of establishing one bureau to take the place of the sectional committees for the entire Western territory. If such a move is recommended the delegation of powers to such an organization will be a delicate problem to hardle. The proposidelicate problem to handle. Palace Car Company, the National City Bank and the Oswego and Rome Hallroad Company, and trustee of the Mutual Life Insurance Company.

He was ill less than half an hour. His death was wholly unexpected, although he had been perliously ill many times during the last few moaths.

For a long time Mr. Webb had been suffering from tuberculosis, but recently he had been improving and gaining strength and flesh, and his condition was most hopeful. This morning he arose feeling well. He dressed and had breakfast and then spent a good portion of the morning walking about the grounds. At 12:15 he entered the library from the grounds and complained of feeling faint. A physician was summoned and reached the house within a few minutes. At that time Mr. Webb was still conscious, but the end was plainly in sight. Twenty minutes after the doctor arrived the patient was dead. He was conscious most of the time.

As assistant to C. M. Depew of the New York Central in 1891, Mr. Webb defeated the great strike of the Knights of Labor. He planned and built the Adirondack and St. Lawrence road, giving the Central a route of its own to Montreal, and managed the deal for the acquisition of the Rome. Waterlown and Ogdenburg Road. Owing to ill-health he was compelled to retire from ousiness in 1857. Since then he had been an invalid.
